Russian Language Instructors – posted 19 December 2019

Defence requires the delivery of a Russian language training course in Canberra during 2020. The course will be a general language course to develop Russian language skills to the post-Beginner level.

The course will be for up to six Defence members. These members have not had prior Russian language training, but all members have passed a language aptitude test.

The goal of the course is to focus on Russian language acquisition to an average level 1+ (required levels vary by macro skill – see 3.2) based on the Australian Defence Language Proficiency Rating Scale (ADLPRS). The initial focus should be on general language acquisition. Following this the focus should primarily be on developing Listening and Reading skills but also how to transfer meaning from Russian to English without necessarily being a strict form of translation. Interpreting and Writing activities should be used for language learning purposes but are not required as an outcome for the course.

Period of Engagement: 17 February – 18 December 2020 (Four Terms)

Location: Canberra Airport Training District or near Fairbairn

Salary will be commensurate with experience. If interested, please contact Mylynda Balodis, Fortis Recruiting, on 08 9467 2490 or via Fortis.Recruitment@fortisconsulting.com.au. Applications are required by no later than COB January 15th 2020.
